Frederick Carder visited museums and drew his favorite objects. Once you get home, find some art supplies and draw your favorite objects from your visit.
Frederick Carder was a glass designer. His work was inspired by things he saw around him.

Now it's your turn...

Look through the Carder Gallery to find pieces of glass that may have been inspired by what you see in these pictures. Talk about the glass you find with your family and friends. There are many possible answers.
